Tutorials No. 1

Exercise 01:

Based on the elements covered in class and your own experience in using computers:

1) Explain the role of computers in technological advancements and the daily lives of humans.
2) In your opinion, what are the negative aspects of computer usage?

Exercise 02:

3) What are the basic components of a computer?
4) List five secondary elements (peripheral).

Exercise 03:

1) What are the different studied categories of computers?
2) Create a comparative table among the studied computer categories based on power, autonomy, price, storage capacity, volume, and portability.
3) Which type of computer do you think is the best?

Exercise 04:

Organize the items below into the designated categories: hardware, software, input peripheral, output peripheral, and operating systems: Word, Keyboard, CPU, Wifi, Solaris, Monitor, Laser Printer, Mouse, RAM, Hard Disk, Floppy Disk, CD-ROM, Monitor, Blu-ray, Memory Card, Modem, DVD-ROM, Bluetooth, Scanner, Windows, Linux, Router, Inkjet Printer, Java, Microprocessor, Excel, Graphics Card, Sound Card, Speaker, BIOS, Slot.